

Congressional Global Health Caucus

Congressional Global Health Caucus Update on the Swine Flu Outbreak

Dear Colleague:

As co-chairs of the Global Health Caucus we want to share a Congressional Update on the Swine Flu outbreak from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Our caucus will distribute these daily updates on the status of the outbreak in the United States and internationally, including background information, travel updates, and where to find additional information. The CDC's website at <http://www.cdc.gov/swineflu> will be updated regularly for all those who have questions about the swine flu or what precautions they should take.

In addition, if a congressional staffer wishes to be added to the distribution list to receive CDC's Swine Flu Congressional Updates directly, or to receive the call-in information for the CDC's daily telebriefings, please call the CDC Washington Office (202) 245-0600.

As Congress prepares to deal with the public health emergency caused by the Swine Influenza, the Congressional Global Health Caucus will hold a briefing next week to address the spread of the virus in the U.S. and abroad. In light of the rapidly changing information about the infection and the challenge of keeping Congress informed and prepared to respond, caucus leaders will lead an important information effort to help Members stay up to date about the global spread of the disease. The Caucus will be providing daily updates as they become available and more information can be found by clicking here.

Sincerely.

/s/

Betty McCollum
Member of Congress

/s/

Dave Reichert
Member of Congress

/s/

Joe Wilson
Member of Congress

/s/

Donna Christensen
Member of Congress

/s/

Vic Snyder
Member of Congress